Evelyn Ford

Local Jr. club member honored

"Through club work women can participate in volunteer projects which not only benefit the community, but in turn expand their knowledge. Opportunities are offered which can develop leadership and organizational potential to the fullest - many times to the surprise of the individual, who may not have had the opportunity and - or the encouragement to experience a leadership role."

This quote was taken from the February 1980 issue of the Va. Clubwoman Magazine, a publication of the Va. Federation of Women's Clubs. These thoughts were the basis of a special feature in this month's magazine entitled, "The Hats We Choose To Wear".

Evelyn Ford, a member of the Appomattox Junior Club, was chosen to be recognized for her accomplishments with the Area 12 Special Olympic Program in Appomattox County and her work in the Junior Club.

Her name was submitted by Appomattox Jr. Club president, Carolyn Thompson, to the Alice Kyle District Junior Director.

The contest was open to all eight junior clubs in the district. Club presidents were asked to submit a name of an eligible club membr to the Alice Kyle District Junior Director, Mrs. Thomas Elliott.

Mrs. Elliott was responsible was choosing a nominee she felt most deserved to be recognized with the State Federation [illegible] and so Evelyn's name was selected.

Soil judging slated today

The annual Southside Area Young Farmers Soils Judging Contest will be held at Appomattox, Thursday, March 27. Taking part in the contest will be three-man teams from Young Farmer organizations in the 14-county area

Soils judging includes skills in evaluating top soils, subsoils, drainage, water-holding capacity, and percolation. Contestants are required to make recommendations for cultivation, fertilization and conservation practices at selected sites.

R. E. McClenny, Jr., district soil conservationist, will select and make official placing of the contest plots. B. K. Waddell, instructor of agricultural education in the Appomattox County High School, is in charge of local arrangements.

Appomattox County will be represented by the Appomattox Young Farmers soils judging team. Members are Greg Evans, David Hix, and Ronnie Jones.
